Description

Nice house in the heart of Jerez city center. The facade is typical lime painted with window frames and doors of stone, very typical of Jerez.

The house is quite large, with about 1,000 sq m.

It has three courtyards, the main portico with columns and two very nice patios where a medlar and three lemon trees grow …

The floors are marble and original hydraulic tiles from first half of the XXth Century.

It has well-preserved parts but it needs a reform.
