Description

This is a beautiful house, designed by its owners as a residence for a large family. Therefore it is very well thought out with well proportioned spaces, using effectively every corner of the house, there are built-in wardrobes throughout the house, town gas central heating ... A very comfortable house.

It has two floors and basement with an English patio. On the ground floor is the hall that leads to the kitchen, and to a very nice sitting room from which you access an unexpected 90 sqm garden ..., and some rooms (living room, study, etc ...).

A strong point of this house is the garden of an average size but very nice giving the house a lot of personality.

The basement is an open space used for recreation, especially for the father and children, without disturbing the rest of the house.
