Description

This farm has a most pleasant landscape. It is clear that once was a pasture with magnificent soil and in fact there are still traces in the landscape: oaks on the edges, ancient pine trees on the horizon ... Currently the whole area is dedicated to annual crops or woody plantations, basically olive groves.

It has a total surface of 73.3 has. of which 5 are occupied by the farmhouse and the irrigation pond. About 68.3 has. of irrigation work with two wells (inscribed and legalized) at about 8 m deep. One with 13 ltrs./s and another with 7 ltrs./s that pour into the irrigation pond from where the farm is irrigated.

Currently these irrigated lands are used for annual crops although there is no doubt that they have potential for olive groves, and perhaps citrus and / or almonds.
