About this property

It surprises you when you reach the main square of this pretty village and find the house across from City Hall and a wonderful original moorish XV th C church.

It's the classic example of a village farmhouse where you find an area for housing and a very wide area intended for various uses related to the land: stables, riding, carpentry, garage, workshop... all in an acre of land.

The great appeal of this house, besides being in full Doñana Natural surroundings is that it is in the center of town.

It has courtyards, gardens, house, warehouses, several outbuildings ... endless corners in such a large plot for a single dwelling.

The part of the owners is perfectly preserved.

The rest, needs to be reformed.
