Description

This is a big house built on a large plot of 4,200 m2 just by the Atlantic Ocean.

It was built in the 80s with great vision since its design allows you to incorporate to the interior the natural environment in which it is located but especially great sea views. The Ocean can be enjoyed from the garden, from the ground floor let alone from the first floor.

The design is simple: large gable roof and under the house with 500 sqm of floor and two heights. It also has a basement.
