A flat with a lot of charm in an original XVIII th C house in the center of Cádiz

Cádiz, Centro histórico, Sale: 520.000€

Description

This house is of maximum singularity, for being of the 18th century and for being restored with great sense and sensitivity ...

It is in the center of Cádiz and has a beautiful octagonal watchtower that starts from the base of the building instead of being built up on the roof of the house.

It has a beautiful facade with stone oyster. It is accessed through a mahogany gate and a hallway with marble floor with a drawing of the Wind Rose, very purposefully in this city totally turned to the sea throughout the centuries.

The entrance to the house can not be more beautiful, with marble floors in checkerboard and a double staircase framed with two beautiful stone arches.

The property is on the first floor and can be accessed, both, from one side and from the other of the stairs. Run from the main facade and along the sides of the patio. It also has an additional patio that gives light to the back.

In total it has two bedrooms with two bathrooms although it is easy to add more. It should be noted the magnificent doors (mahogany, cedar, Flanders pine ...) of the house, all original, restored with great criteria and give a great category to the house.
