Description

This is a beautiful house, designed by its owners as a residence for a large family. Therefore it is very well thought out with well proportioned spaces, using efectively every corner of the house, there are builin wardroves throughout the house, town gas central heating ... A very comfortable house.

It has two floors and basement with an English patio. On the ground floor is the hall that leads to the kitchen, and to al very nice sitting room from which you access an unexpected 90 sqm garden ..., and some rooms (living room, study, etc ...).

A strong point of this house is the garden of an average size but very nice giving the house a lot of personality.

The basement is an open space used for recreation, especially for the father and children, without disturbing the rest of the house.
